Dear Professional in the Field of Neuroscience,

I am applying for a position in the field of neuroscience. This position fits very well with my career interests. I particularly am interested in the research side of this job.

This position requires problem-solving skills. During my 8 months at Stewart Property Services, I used my problem-solving skills to solve everyday problems in the office. I was able to make decisions for myself and think critically. When I needed some help, I wasn't afraid to ask my coworkers. The position in neuroscience would be a great fit for me because I would be able to put my problem-solving skills to good use.

Given my past experiences, I am confident in my ability to contribute to your company. To discuss my qualifications in an interview, you can contact me at your convenience at (209) 305-2034. Thank you for your consideration., I look forward to talking to you in an interview.

Sincerely,

Madeline Stewart
